A320 Line Training - MSFS 2024

As you will know, we currently use the YourControls programme to facilitate multi-crew operations, enabling us to deliver the Airbus Line Training programme.

At present, there is no official YourControls support for MSFS 2024, though it is understood that it does work to some extent in some aircraft and work is ongoing to update the software to be fully compatible. I believe one hindrance to this work is the fact that core files are currently encrypted and unable to be overridden in MSFS 2024.

For this reason, we would ask that sessions are conducted using MSFS 2020 in order to ensure proper compatibility and the best experience for all parties. If in the future it can be established that YourControls works reliably with the Fenix and/or FlyByWire A320 aircraft in MSFS 2024, and/or can work adequately cross-platform (e.g. trainee using MSFS 2024, trainer using MSFS 2020) this may be revisited.

Many thanks for your understanding!
